Community Service Obligation

Community Service Obligation (CSO) refers to the level of councils' commitment to social objectives within its region. In order to maintain fair competition, it is important that these 'non-commercial' activities provided by local government businesses are identified and appropriately costed. Under National Competition Policy these activities are called community service obligations. National Competition Policy requires that the Commonwealth Government make annual 'competition payments' to the states and territories. The payments recognise that the economic growth brought about by competition reforms provide tangible financial dividends to the Commonwealth. In New South Wales these payments are not returned to Local Government. Therefore, it is important to:

- Clearly identify any community service obligations;
- Accurately measure the full cost of provision;
- Decide upon an appropriate funding mechanism; and
- Fully disclose community service obligations in policy statements, legislation and financial reporting.

The schedule of fees and charges identifies those charges that include a community service obligation. The services are listed in the tables included in this document under CSO.

Turf Sporting fields

Tamworth Regional Council manages a significant number of sporting fields within the LGA. These facilities vary significantly in the infrastructure provided, quality of the playing surface and the level of competition played. In an effort to provide a fee structure that reflects the range and quality of facilities provided, Tamworth Regional Council classifies its sporting fields into four Tiers as detailed below with their respective classification standards.

Includes Council managed sports fields in Tamworth and Manilla.

Lighting Fees (Per Hour)

There are a number of sports fields where lighting is adequate for training and competition. These lights are predominately used by winter sporting codes, therefore costs relating to the delivery of lighting services are to be at the users expense.

User groups are provided with codes to switch lights on and off and these codes provide Tamworth Regional Council with accurate usage data. Tamworth Regional Council's sports facilities have varying quality of lights and users will be charged for their exact usage per facility.
